

ROOTSTOCK MANUFACTURING ERP EXTENDED PROFILE

OVERVIEW

Rootstock is a cloud-based manufacturing ERP system, purpose-built for mid-sized manufacturers looking to digitally transform on a next-generation platform.

Built natively on the Salesforce Platform, Rootstock centralizes supply chain, inventory, production, and financial management in a single solution and integrates with Salesforce CRM to provide a unified customer and operational view.

Rootstock ERP supports discrete, process, and mixed-mode manufacturing and includes core modules for MRP, shop-floor control, quality management, lot/serial traceability, and multisite/multicompany operations, all designed to reduce manual work and improve production visibility.

Pricing for Rootstock is broken down into three tiers: Growth, Advanced, and Enterprise:

- Growth: A solution for fast-growing businesses, offering core functionality, quick setup, and low-cost add-ons.
- Advanced: For complex business needs with advanced ERP, manufacturing, and distribution capabilities, plus extensive add-ons.
- Enterprise: Comprehensive ERP and financials for all scales, with advanced functionality, analytics, and full integration support.
